

Jaime Wong-Lopez

Jaime grew up in the San Francisco Bay Area, attending Catholic elementary and high schools. He attended church sporadically through college, but did not feel a spiritual home. While in medical school, he met Cilicia, a lifelong Lutheran, and found the ELCA matched many of his worldviews. Moving every 2 to 3 years while in the Navy, he has been part of many denominational congregations throughout the world. Arriving on Oahu in October 2023, his usual “church shopping” started and ended with the first visit to CBTS. He hopes it will always be inclusive, intentional and involved, prioritizing members’ spiritual needs. Jaime loves soccer, Star Wars, and zombie movies.
